Introducing our new Aviation Resilience course

NEW! Aviation Resilience Course

We are excited to announce the release of our new instructor-led course Aviation Resilience, designed to equip CAA technical managers with the necessary competencies to implement integrated risk management and crisis preparedness strategies.

At the end of the course, you'll come away with the knowledge and skills needed to ensure that your organization is prepared to handle unforeseen risks and crises, and to maintain the safety and connectivity of aviation operations. Don't miss out on this opportunity to enhance your expertise and advance your career in aviation management.

European Region (EUR)

EUROCONTROL European Aviation Overview : 26 Apr- 02 May 2023

Our latest European Aviation Overview gives you all the facts and figures you need to understand what's been going on across the European aviation network.

Key data in this edition:

- For the week 26 April to 2 May, the Network recorded 28,204 average daily flights (+7% vs 2022), increasing (+1%) to the previous week and standing at 92% of 2019 levels
- Commercial airlines have now deployed their summer capacities (e.g. easyJet, British Airways, Vueling, Ryanair and Wizz Air), hence little change compared to the previous week.
- In April, the number of flights in the Network was 90% of the 2019 levels, matching the base scenario of the flight forecast released in December 2022.
- On the first two days of May, network traffic was affected by industrial action in France, the continuation of a series of strikes which started earlier this year (reform of pension law)
- For this reason, France accounted for 58% of all en-route ATFM delays last week.
- Arrival and Departure punctuality continue to be affected by the long-term French industrial action. They are around 6 percentage points below 2019.
- The Jet fuel price closed at 2.25 USD/gallon on 28 April, decreasing (-9%) on last edition. Current prices have decreased by 21% compared to the ones at the beginning of the year.
